Message from the President, Marty Dine

Welcome to the fall edition of the Torrey Pines Gulls Newsletter. Once again, Cliff has done a great job putting it together.

I hope everyone has been enjoying the summer! While the Board has taken a short hiatus to allow for vacations and other flying excursions, the Club activities carry on. The monthly TD contests have been well attended, and thanks to the efforts of John McNeil and Gary Fogel, Hand launch contests are now a part of the schedule again. So, thanks guys for taking the torch and re-establishing the F3K events. Hopefully the contests will spur even more of our members to compete successfully next year in the IHLGF. I believe the next F3K hand launch contest is scheduled for October 12th.

Speaking of competition, our own Tim Traver has earned a spot on Team USA for the upcoming F3F World Championships. Congratulations Tim, we'll all look forward to following your exploits with Team USA.

Our next General Meeting will be held on Saturday, October 5th 2013 at 1:00pm on the Bluff at Torrey Pines Gliderport. We will have a short meeting, and do some fun flying. If you haven't gotten checked out/rated for Torrey as yet, there will be someone there to show you the ropes and get you rated, so keep that afternoon open and we'll see you at the bluff. Most any airplane will work, and I hope to see lots of you TD types there ;^) Let's hope for some nice breeze!

DLG Contest Report – August 17, 2013 – by Gary Fogel

It has been a while since the TPG had a monthly or bimonthly contest for DLGs. John McNeil and I had been contemplating the idea of reviving these in advance of the IHLGF 2014 event – so when I became aware of AMA's program to have "National Model Aviation Day" on August 17, it was a no-brainer to put the two together and help not only raise awareness for DLG but also for model airplanes and raise money for the Wounded Warriors Project. Unfortunately there wasn't much time for advertising but John assisted with this on RC Groups. The concept of this contest series is to have new DLG pilots learn F3K in a fun and low-key contest environment. Nine participants showed up at the Poway Flight Center to give it a go.

Five rounds of tasks were arranged:

- 1) Ladder (F3K task H): 30 s; 45 s; 60 s; 75 s; 90 s; 105 s; 120 s
- 2) 5x 2min (F3K task M): Unlimited throws, best 5 flight, 2 min max
- 3) All up last down (F3K task E): 3x 3min 3 throws
- 4) 1, 2, 3, 4min (F3K task P): unlimited throws, any order
- 5) Next to last and last, 4 min max (F3K task C)

Pilots were grouped into Sportsman (Group A), Expert (Group B), so that experts could time for sportsmen and vice versa to add to the learning. Conditions were quite interesting as there were times when the lift was abundant and also times when lift was very difficult to find, even within one round. "Light and bubbly" was the best way to describe it. Another way would be H-O-T.

Congratulations to all who turned out – especially to Frank Campbell for his excellent flying (We'll have to rethink binning him in Group a next time!) Also to Mike Seid to manage somehow to fly his DLG back to the landing field upside down with no elevator at all after a midair with Amardeep. (Mike must have a secret supply of magic dust.) We are looking forward to having another one of these on October 12 at the Poway Flight Center. Come on out and join the fun! Specifically if you have never flown in a DLG contest or want to work on your skills, this is the low-key event for you. Experts are welcome and encouraged to attend but please help with advice and tips to new DLG pilots.
