Happy New Year...TPG's 50th!!!
Another year over and another on its way!

The weather has been a little rough at Torrey with a few good days this winter.

Our annual dues are due, so let's help the club and get them in. Great Christmas party at AleSmith; and a big shout out to Ian for the AV show on the big screen. Keep 'em flying!

Blue Skies,

Craig Hanson
TPG President
craighanson1256@gmail.com

 Our 2019 Award Winners

The annual holiday party held at AleSmith Brewing Company was a great success. Delicious Mexican food from the food truck and great brews at the bar made for a fun club get-together. Lots of us brought cookies and snacks for dessert and we were treated to a great slide show of TPG photos from the past year, assembled by Ian Cummings.

We voted for 2020 club officers (see the next to last page for the list of new and returning Executive Council and other officers).

And of course, we awarded trophy plaques for the winners of club competitions and Modeler of the Year. Due to the low turnout for TD contests, no awards were given in this category.

For DLG, the winners were:

Open Class

- 1st Chuck Norris
- 2nd Gary Fogel
- 3rd John McNeil

Sportsman Class

- 1st Dale Osborn
- 2nd Cliff Hunter
- 3rd Dan Gebhardt

Modeler of the Year
Chuck Norris

Here's Chuck with the Mark's Models Perpetual Award Trophy, a personal Modeler of the Year Plaque and his 1st Place DLG Open Class Plaque. Congrats, Chuck!

Fun for Builders! – Ward Hagaman

Model airplane building is not DEAD!!!

Yes, some of us still build what we fly. If you're a builder, or just interested in getting back into building...or just want to hang out with your flying buds, come hang out at Ward Hagaman's garage!

A group of intrepid modeler/pilots have started getting together monthly to build, and repair their aircraft as well as learn some new building techniques and of course, swap stories.

Bring any tools and building supplies you may need (and your kit of course!)

Ward Hagaman has graciously offered to host these monthly build parties at his house at:
6387 Lakewood Street
San Diego, CA 92122

Builders building at Ward's first build night (Ward Hagaman Photo)

The next build night is tentatively scheduled for Wednesday, January 8. If anyone would like to come over and build, or BS, or both, Ward plans to be out in the garage from 5 PM until 9 or so.

News from the Slope – Mark Baldacchino, Slope Coordinator

Mark Baldacchino

Happy New Year and Happy 50th Anniversary, TP Gulls!

What an honor it is to belong to a RC club that has withstood the test of time; it really speaks for itself of the camaraderie of our members! I've belonged to several RC car and boat clubs in the past four decades, and can honestly tell you that the Torrey Pines Gulls is by far the best! What I mean is that the members here are the most enthusiastic, helpful, friendly, and want to do best for the club, than I'VE EVER seen! In fact, there are others who belonged to the San Diego Argonauts, i.e. Bob Hirsch, who has rejoined our club after 25 years. Look for Bob to be a great asset to the TPG as he's one of the most kind and helpful guys you'll ever meet. Let's keep up the momentum going this year to build-up our membership, keep flying safely, and working together with the Gliderport folks to keep our presence at the slope.

We didn't have a fun fly in December, but there were a few flyable days from what I heard. I flew one day in the middle of the month, which kept me on my toes, as it seemed like there was someone there with their fingers on the "wind switch." In other words, if you weren't paying attention to your planes' lift situation, you were headed to the beach. A few of us got to practice some unexpected downwind landings.

On the following page is the 2020 Gliderport schedule. Looking forward to seeing you all at the slope.

Best Regards,

Mark Baldacchino
Slope Coordinator

Thermal Duration/F5J Update – Tom Watson

As TPG's new Thermal Coordinator, I hope to build interest in our monthly contests not only from within the club ranks, but from the outside as well. TD contest participation across all of the SoCal clubs is on the decline, and events like the Visalia Fall Soaring Festival are also taking a big hit. Fewer accessible flying fields is a big factor, as well as the static pilot demographic...not much new blood coming into the hobby.

On the flip side, interest in F5J is on the rise and we hope this will help reinvigorate our contest series. Our 2020 thermal calendar consists of 10 events – alternating each month between traditional TD at the Encinitas field and F5J at Poway, with August and December off.

In addition to the club web site and monthly e-mail notifications, the contest schedule is posted on RC Groups, in the TPG forum and the Sailplane Events forum. These will be updated with contest announcements through the year:

<https://www.rcgroups.com/forums/showthread.php?3479943-2020-TPG-TD-contest-schedule>

<https://www.rcgroups.com/forums/showthread.php?3479945-2020-TPG-F5J-contest-schedule>

<https://www.rcgroups.com/forums/showthread.php?3480283-2020-Torrey-Pines-Gulls-TD-F5J-contest-schedule>

Our first contest is on January 12th at Encinitas, so come join us for some flying and camaraderie. Help spread the word to other pilots and clubs if you can.

Finally, my sincere thanks to Cliff Hunter for all his past work supporting TPG's thermal program, and his ongoing help supporting me.

Tom

November Postal Report – Ray Pili

I Shems on RCGroups is promoting DLG flying over the winter months from November through March. We TPGers usually suffer wearing long pants and maybe a sweatshirt when flying. But for I Shem, who is from Europe, and DLG pilots from the northern hemisphere, snow is an issue.

I Shem has a thread on RCGroups with details on the Winter Postal (WP) (<https://www.rcgroups.com/forums/showthread.php?2031476-F3K-Winter-postal-competition/page24>).

In a nutshell, I Shem posts monthly tasks, and you fly the task. You can keep improving your score until the month ends. I Shems provides a scorecard to record your results, along with weather information, 1 or 1.5 m, so you can compare with others in a friendly competition. The monthly tasks are not your typical FAI F3K tasks, by any means. The tasks are announced in the RCGroups thread, a link to the score sheet and the results can be found on the thread. People have been posting photos. It's fun to see who's flying and the conditions they have to work with.

Ryan (rdwoebke) from Indianapolis

Scoring is on your honor and there is no prize.

A TPG Winter Postal series was set up at the Poway field, starting in November 2019 and are all on Saturdays.

The remaining dates are:

Jan 25, Feb 8 and March 7. An F3K Vault registration will be set up for each event, with a couple of warmup tasks prior to the main event.

November Postal Report (continued)

Nov 30th was the initial WP event. The task was called “3, 4, 5 in 6”. You have a 20 min window and you score your three best flights with a max of 3, 4 and 5 min max. 6 flights only.

We had 6 pilots attend. Ron and Austin from Riverside and the rest from TPG.

L to R, Ray, Austin, Ron, Gary, Cliff and Don

We flew two warm up tasks; Big Ladder and 1,2,3,4. Then 3, 4, 5 in 6.

Don and Gary scored Ks on the Big Ladder with Austin coming in 26 seconds behind Gary with a 956.

1,2,3,4 – Gary and I scored K's with Austin next with a 770.

These were warm up tasks and the air was getting better so on to 3, 4, 5 in 6.

Austin, Gary and I scored K's, Ron with a Deviant flew a fantastic 974 dropping 19 seconds and Cliff right behind with a 933. Don wasn't so lucky.

Round 3		F3K Task E - Poker (Pilot Nominated)							Raw Score	Normalized Score
Pilot Name	Group	Times					= Total
		Sub 1	Sub 2	Sub 3	Sub 4	Sub 5
1	2 Austin Gossard	A	3:00	4:00	5:00			= Total 12m 00s	720	1000
2	6 Ron Rossetti	A	2:41	4:00	5:00			= Total 11m 41s	701	974
3	5 Clifford Hunter	A	2:12	4:00	5:00			= Total 11m 12s	672	933
4	1 Ray Pili	B	3:00	4:00	5:00			= Total 12m 00s	720	1000
5	7 Gary Fogel	B	3:00	4:00	5:00			= Total 12m 00s	720	1000
6	3 Don Lochhead	B	1:39	1:58	3:20			= Total 6m 57s	417	579

The WP Tasks are a new twist and December's task was even more interesting.

F3K/DLG Hand Launch Gliders December Postal Report – Chuck Norris

With no monthly DLG contest scheduled for December, the December Winter Postal became the main event. For those of you who aren't aware, the Winter Postal is a winter contest series organized by RCGroups member "I Shems" out of Belgium. People from all around the world fly the same tasks and then send in their scores online.

This means every location is flying in totally different air, so some pilots will have a distinct advantage over others, but it's still a fun contest and great camaraderie with our fellow pilots around the world. The San Diego contingent had ten pilots flying.

This month's task was called the Double Dutch, and is something like Poker but has a 30 minute flight window and your flights are arranged in pairs. The first flight of each pair can be for any duration, but your second flight "must" be of equal or greater duration to the first one. More on this later.

Bob Hirsch photo

Our fearless Contest Director, Don Lochhead, set up some F3K-"ish" tasks before Double Dutch to give us a chance to warm up and give us a full morning of flying. The air was tough, with all of us struggling to get flights longer than a minute and a half. This pattern persisted for most of the morning and made for some interesting flying.

The first task was called "First and Last", and you score your first and last flights only with a 4 minute maximum in a 10 minute window. This means this is not a turnaround task, but the available air would not support anything near a 4 minute flight, so it would not have mattered if it did. The lift was elusive, with pilots finding, at best, neutral air. Launch height was a critical advantage, as was staying off the sticks and letting your aircraft cruise with minimal control

The second task was an invention of Don Lochhead - he calls it the "Big Slide". It's flown just like the Big Ladder except in reverse - you fly the 3 minute flight first, then 2:30, then 2:00 and so on. Flying in reverse, you don't have the usual ability to hunt out lift during earlier flights - you pretty much have to hook up on your first flight. Since the soft air stuck around, we all had to be content with scratching for neutral air and launching as high as we could throw.

Next was the main event, the Double Dutch. This allows unlimited flights, and as long as you make your times, every flight counts. So it is the Mother of All Quick-turn Tasks, with 30 minutes of quick-turns combined with trying to figure out a flying strategy that works with the unfamiliar task.

As I mentioned, Double Dutch is flown using pairs of flights, which we called A and B. The A flight can be for any duration up to 5 minutes, and that time then becomes your target "must make" time for your B flight. So if you fly a 1:30 on your A flight, then you must fly for at least 1:30 on your B flight, or else the time doesn't count and you have to try again.

It's similar to Poker in this regard, although it feels very different while flying, especially during your A flights. When flying the A flight you have to constantly be thinking about your B flight and make sure not to push your time too hard or risk missing the B flight. Several of us made the mistake of getting lulled by better than average air on the A flight and then struggling with the B flight.

With the air remaining soft, the 30 minute window meant lots of launches, and I'm sure many of us felt it the next day. It made for a great quick-turn practice session, and since my QTs are starting to click, I found I enjoyed the task very much.

After "Double Dutch", Don finished off the day with a round of "All Up". The conditions never really improved much, and the 3:00 times were exceedingly tough to make.

Despite the tough conditions it was a fun day, and I personally enjoyed the new task formats. I could see "Double Dutch" working with a 10 minute window, so it would fit in just fine in a typical contest format.

2019 was a good year for Gulls DLG! The monthly contests have lived up to the goal of being welcoming to new and developing pilots, and I hope to continue this in 2020!

Here's to a successful 2020!

Chuck

LSF Report – Ray Pili

Happy New Year!!!

The TPG LSF Days at Poway will follow the Winter Postal (all Saturdays):

June 13

Aug 9

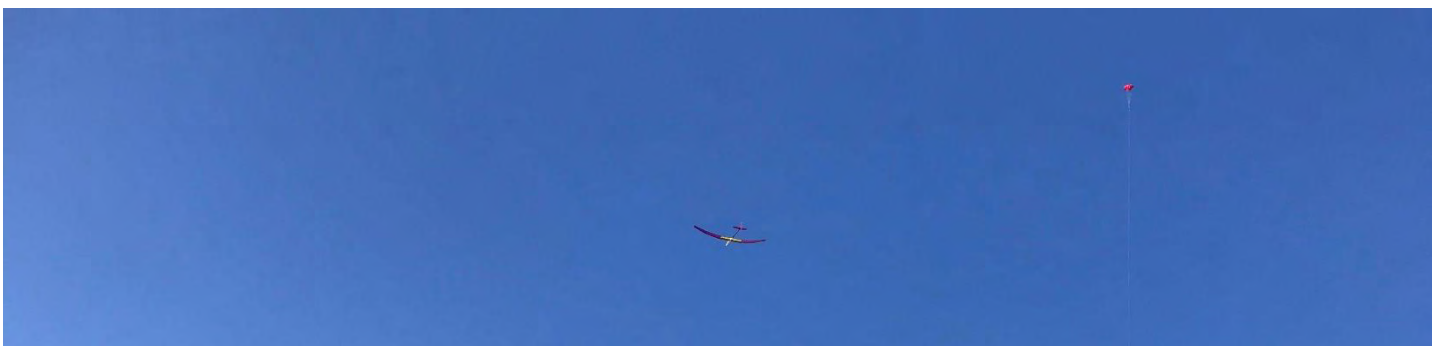

Oct 24

LSF attendance in the past few years has been waning. The club is hoping to turn this around in 2020. As the pilots progress up the ladder, tasks become much harder and may take months if not years to achieve.

If you have LSF Tasks that you need to check off, LMK. We will try to tailor an LSF date to help you achieve the task.

For example, Level II and above require competition experience. You can either place in the top three or gather enough points from multiple contests to achieve the goal. If you're a better sloper than thermal pilot, it might take you many thermal events to place, so why not plan a slope race? It does not have to be a full blown F3F race, but could be a Foamy MOM with signal flags. Who doesn't like a Combat session?

Lastly, eLSF is possible now that F5J is allowed at Poway.
